Flow Chemistry Network

Selected Topic: Flow Chemistry at ILMAC 2023

In this month's Flow Chemistry column, we would like to draw your attention to the upcoming Flow Chemistry talks at the ILMAC 2023. The three-day fair, taking place on September 26-28, combines vendor stalls, networking opportunities and conference talks on selected themes.

This year's ILMAC conference takes place under the topic Chemical Sciences a Driving Forces for a Sustainable Future. Day 2 of the conference will be especially interesting for flow chemists, with the opening lecture by Prof. Oliver Kappe, one of the world leaders in the field. We hope to see you there and we are looking forward to a day of stimulating talks and networking!
